Tools Of Ignorance - Lisa's Story (Clarksonville)

Synopsis

Lisa Brown is the starting catcher for the Clarksonville Cougars High School softball team, and she has a major crush on her pitcher Marlee. Lisa continues to carry her torch for Marlee, even when Sam, a rival softball player, flirts sweetly. Lisa becomes more confused than ever when Tara, the first girl she ever kissed and the first girl who ever broke her heart, resurfaces. Since Marlee doesn't know Lisa's alive, should Lisa give up on her once and for all? Sam seems to have secrets of her own, but Lisa wonders if she should overlook them and allow her fledgling attraction grow for the pretty blonde or should she fan the tiny flame still burning in her heart for Tara? Lisa faces these problems and deals with society's tools of ignorance in her quest for love and acceptance.

I liked this story! Barabara L. Clanton continues the Clarksonville Series focusing on Lisa, Marlee's catcher and the challenges of first crushes, first kisses, and first love. I was quickly caught up in the story of Lisa's life- playing softball, taking care of her siblings, and accepting who she is and who she is possibly attracted to as she navigates the Spring of her sophomore year. Clanton puts the reader right into the action of a high school softball player heading to the state championship while navigating the ups and downs of first love. The romance was sweet and perfectly orchestrated to allow the reader to bond with the Lisa. It was a great read and I am very much looking forward to the next in the series!
